The Daily Freeman.

VOL. 1. CITY OF KINGSTON, (RONDOUT,) N. Y., MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1872. NO. 206.

THE DAILY FREEMAN,

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING,
Sundays excepted,
BY HORATIO FOWKS,
at the
Newkirk Building, Division St.,
City of Kingston, (Rondout, N. Y.)

The DAILY FREEMAN will be an Independent Republican Journal, with an opinion on every subject, firm in its advocacy of freedom, equal rights and just laws for all men; outspoken in its opposition to the abuses and the follies of the day, in favor of progress and improvement everywhere, and especially devoted to the interests of the City of Kingston and vicinity.

The Telegraphic News Department will be complete and well supplied, the FREEMAN being a MEMBER OF THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED PRESS, through which it receives and is enabled to present a full summary of intelligence from all parts of the world every morning.

Local News and especially City, Town and County News will receive special attention, paid correspondents being employed in all parts of the county. All news received from other than our regular correspondents will paid for if used. Full reports of all important meetings will be presented, and in every respect the DAILY FREEMAN will be a First-Class Paper and a worthy companion of the WEEKLY FREEMAN.

Commercial and Stock Reports carefully corrected every day.

THE DAILY FREEMAN will furnish for the breakfast table of its patrons the News from All Parts of the World up to 3 o'clock, A. M.

Terms—Six Dollars per year, payable invariably in advance. If collected weekly, Fifteen Cents per week. Single copies four cents.

Advertisements will be displayed as ordered, and charged according to the space occupied, measured in inches down the column.

HORATIO FOWKS,
Editor, Proprietor and Publisher.

THE WEEKLY FREEMAN, a large, well-filled paper, will be sent to subscribers at $2 per annum, payable in advance. HORATIO FOWKS,
Editor, Proprietor and Publisher.

JOB PRINTING in all its branches Promptly, Cheaply and Neatly Done. By the use of STEAM POWER and a large force we are enabled to turn out work at a rate that distances all competition. We have facilities for printing Law Cases unequalled between New York and Albany.

HORATIO FOWKS, Proprietor.

Death of Whiskey Joe.

A singular character, known as Whisky Joe, was killed at Athens, Pa., the other day. Joe was six feet seven inches high. He was a middle-aged, well-to-do farmer. Joe and his father would frequently indulge in drinking bouts at the country taverns together. At these times it was very difficult to get Joe to go home. Finally, Joe's father hit upon a plan that often proved successful. Joe had very long legs, and he was a great jumper. His father would bet him drinks for the party that he could not jump into the wagon. The old man would get into the front seat, and as soon as Joe landed he would lash the horses and take Joe home in a hurry. At last Joe fell out of the wagon and broke his neck. They had to send to New York to get a coffin long enough to bury Joe in.

Quite a notable phenomenon was observed in Williamsburg after the severe thunder-storm of Friday morning. Within a certain circumscribed area millions of curious worm-like beings, each with an appendage of tail, were noticed. They filled the gutters, and wherever there was a hole they fell into it, and were eaten by the hogs which rooted among them; and thousands of sparrows seemed to have been collected at the place for the sake of devouring them. Never had such a thing been known before by the inhabitants of the place, many of whom believed that the new grubs had been rained down from the skies. Prodigies of this sort are not at all uncommon—it is only the explanation of them which is generally looked upon as absurd. There have been rains of blood, which have been shown up as merely absurd renderings of whirlwinds of red sand, and there seems to be no doubt that the inhabitants of Williamsburg have no monsters to deal with just at present. Can it be, however, that these "worms" are the grubs of the small-pox flies which some months ago were noticed at Mozambique by the crew of the Althea?

Ambitious boys who may feel disposed to repine over present obstacles, and to doubt their ability to rise in the world, should recall the early career of Senator Wilson and take courage. In a speech made at Great Falls, N. H., Feb. 24, 1872, he said: "I left my home at ten years of age, and served an apprenticeship of eleven years, receiving a month's schooling each year, and at the end of eleven years of hard work, a yoke of oxen and six sheep, which brought me eighty-four dollars. Eighty-four dollars for eleven years of hard toil! I never spent the amount of one dollar in money, counting every penny, from the time I was born until I was twenty-one years of age. I know what it is to travel weary miles, and ask my fellow-men to give me leave to toil."

Can a minister act by proxy in the performance of the marriage service? The New York newspapers of Saturday chronicled the happiness of a young couple joined in wedlock, as the notice ran, "by the Rev. S. H. Tyng, jr., representing the Rev. S. H. Tyng, D. D." The World states that after a bridegroom has been "represented" by a proxy it is usually understood that he is to go through the ceremony subsequently in person, and wants to know if the rule holds good with respect to the parson. The question is certainly an important one, and it may be unpleasant to the party joined as above announced.

JOHN G. WOLVEN,
OF THE
CITY LIVERY, SALE AND EXCHANGE STABLES,
To supply the great demand of his customers, has purchased of Brewster & Co., of Broome street, New York, a very fine LANDAU CARRIAGE of elegant design, IMPORTED FROM BERLIN, Prussia, at the cost of $3,000. It can be easily changed in three different ways to suit customers—closed, half-top or all open. He has also new buggies, two-seated park phaetons, first-class horses, four in-hand-turn-outs, and careful drivers, to be let on reasonable terms.
Having purchased nearly an entire new stock, he will sell his entire former stock, consisting of carriages, buggies, harness, three-seated wagons, half-tops, rockaways &c., many of which are nearly new, at a great sacrifice. Summer boarding-house keepers and others who desire to procure good carriages and wagons at low prices, will do well to give him a call. No better bargains can be offered in the City of Kingston.

THE DAILY FREEMAN.

CITY OF KINGSTON, (RONDOUT.)

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 17, 1872.

Party Fealty.

"In Iowa the Potato-bugs sit on the bushes weeping over the backwardness of the season."—Exchange.

It is perhaps a natural fault with raw recruits that their zeal effervesces at a rate that old veterans never hope to equal. The old-line regiments have often gazed with wonder at the gaily caparisoned boys rushing fresh from their mother's apron-strings into the fray, and take a long look at them, while there's leisure, lest the mere side-glance they can give to their scattered ranks, broken by the shock with the enemy's skirmishers, may, as their serried lines open to let them pass, fail to reveal the organizations to which they belong, and as they have never before seen them in the fight they fear they may mistake them as enemies.

We observe our friend Taylor, of the Ellenville Journal, is having a torchlight parade all by himself, out in that staid and steady village. He has suddenly made the discovery that his paper is a Republican sheet, and evidently considers it his duty to elect Gen. Grant within the next fortnight. So he deploys himself in battle array, marches by column, by squad, by battalion, forms in hollow square, and generally kicks up such a bobbery that his readers must say to themselves as they read his bayonet-bristling columns, "Why, what's this! Here's Taylor taking sides in an election! Who ever heard of such a thing!"

The advance of the Journal has been grand and sublime, not to say exhilarating; and so enthusiastic that no one can doubt the result in Wawarsing and wherever else the influence of the Journal extends. As there seems to be trouble in Ellenville regarding the post-office matter, and some difficulty in comprehending the exact bearing of the civil-service reform on the question, we hope our Journal friend will be able to reconcile all differences and perfect a harmonious settlement of all questions which disturb the Republican party in that section.

We are sorry to note that we are the innocent cause of even for one moment delaying the onward course of our exuberant friend. He is obliged to pause, even in one of the most complicated pirouettes of his war-dance, to give THE FREEMAN a gentle reminder of his displeasure. Its party fealty troubles him, and he sternly rebukes it. Were it not that the Journal consoles itself because of the FREEMAN's lack of influence, we should feel sad, but; as he forcibly says, the mischief is slight, hence it's not worth crying about.

But does the Journal consider cracking the party whip its best holt? THE FREEMAN has for the past seven years uniformly supported the Republican ticket. Asking nothing of the party, it has always given it all it had to give in influence and support, be that little or great. During that time it does not remember that the Ellenville Journal once entered the fight for the Republican ticket. Further than that it saw that the Journal deliberately slaughtered Mr. Lindsley, the Republican candidate for Congress, while its editor worked for his old neighbor, Joe Tuthill, with all his might and main. Others, who are equally zealous now, were equally treacherous then to as true a Republican as ever breathed, but it is not to our purpose just now to treat of them. Suffice it to say, if these Republicans had devoted half as much energy to supporting the Republican candidates for Congress and Judge, as they have in endeavors to injure THE FREEMAN, Mr. Lindsley would have had five hundred and Mr. Lawton three thousand majority.

Political Fun.

Politics is a very serious thing generally. We know of nothing about which people will quarrel more quickly or excitedly except theology.

But a little fun occurs now and then. For instance what a rare joke was it to have an anti-secret society start on a presidential cruise and select as their captain Charles Francis Adams, the said Charles Francis being so high in masonry that he was talked of for Grand High Priest of the order of Masons, which is popularly supposed to be a secret order. And now we have another. It was apparent for some time that the little knot of men called Free Traders wanted to nominate Gen. J. D. Cox, of Ohio. If only they had! It would have been almost as good a joke as President Grant's appointment of A. T. Stewart to the Treasury, for Cox wasn't born in the country. He couldn't help it, to be sure, for he was young at the time; but nevertheless the fact makes him unavailable for President. It must be conceded, that the Free Traders carried their principles to an excess when they propose to import us a Presidential candidate free of duty.

Agricultural Reports.

The government struck a popular vein when it established the system of publishing the weather reports, whereby all sections of the country could know in the morning and evening what weather to expect for the succeeding twenty-four hours. On the sea-coast especially these reports have been of incalculable value in saving shipping. To the farmers also they would be of much value could they be brought more directly to their notice, the chief difficulty at present being the fact that so few of them are in reach of the dailies.

The agricultural interest is so great, and its success so vital to the nation, and substantial aid towards the timely securing of a crop being of such vast proportions in money value when applied to the entire acreage devoted to such pursuits, that the government could well afford to devote a large sum to bringing every available fact to the knowledge of every farmer within reasonable distance of the great highways. A telegram that would save a rye crop for one, or a wheat harvest for another, or a fine lot of hay for a third, would be worth much more than it cost.

It is announced that the officials in charge of this Department are making arrangements to receive news from different sections in regard to the crops. But what is more particularly wanted is the news of the weather to be expected. We notice that the berry men down the river have been trying to secure these dispatches as a guide to the proper time for picking their fruit. It is the establishment of central stations as convenient as possible to farmers that is needed, and when this has been done the department will have made itself of more value to the nation than if it started a hundred experimental gardens at Washington or scattered forty times as many documents as it does now, most of these being used as scrap-books.

Wallkill Valley Railway Troubles.

Mr. Norton has again commenced proceedings for another commission on the location of the road over his lands. We are sorry he sees fit to throw so many obstructions in the way of the early completion of the road to Kingston. Mr. Cornell offered to change the bed within three months, to suit his desire, provided they could lay the track now. This proposition, we understand, was made in order to proceed with the track-laying and ballasting of the remaining portion of the road. It was so fair that we regret Mr. Norton did not see fit to accede to it. The public want the road, and he should try to help them. We still hope he may be conciliatory.

An Indian Hurricane.

TERRIFIC STORM AT MADRAS—NUMEROUS WRECKS AND LARGE LOSS OF LIFE IN THE INTERIOR.

A correspondent of the London Times sends to that journal an account of the recent terrible hurricane. He says:

Many a weather-wise Englishman drove down to the beach on the evening of May-day to see for himself that the ships were gone, and returned grieved at heart. I had seen fourteen ships on shore only four years before, and a year later had stood by while another brave vessel had driven through the splendid pier. On both occasions nine out of ten of the English craft had saved themselves by slipping their cables and running out to sea. On neither occasion had things so bad a look as now, yet there every ship rode at anchor, proudly unconscious of the fate that was before it. As I turned sadly away three and thirty sail tossed sleepily over the angry wave, as if they neither knew nor cared why such hoary breakers gallopped in. Yesterday I went again. It was but May 2. But three of this great fleet were still riding there, and one of them had lost two of its masts, all the rest lay strewing the shore. But I anticipate. The gale increased as night wore on. At about midnight Mr. Pogson, the astronomer, telegraphed from the Observatory to the Marine Office that a fearful storm was near, but this the marine authorities ought to have known long before, for the glass had fallen fully an inch. Shortly after this the ships were ordered from the shore to get ready, and at 3 in the morning to cut their cables and stand out to sea. It was too late. The question was not how to get to sea, but how to keep off the shore. The storm was fearful, and the surf rolled clear over everything. Wind and wave were dead set for the shore. At 3 A. M. the native craft was almost all loose, drifting steadily before the wind. At 5 o'clock the cyclone was at its height, and half the English ships were adrift.

About 10 in the morning two more ships broke loose—the Hotspur and Sir Robert Seppings. The former is or was one of the most favorite ships that ever sailed to India, and on her every voyage was crowded with passengers. No passengers were on board, as she was not advertised to sail for some days to come. The other had been chartered to sail to Mauritius, with 350 coolies. All were on board. Indeed, the ship ought to have sailed the day before. What a thrill of horror went through those who looked on when the Sir Robert Seppings began to drift. It was soon seen that she would come on shore where the Ardbeg had struck. Thank God she missed the groyne, but came on the sand not ten yards off. The coolies were mad with terror, but the ship was staunch, and had come on a soft spot. It was soon seen that the ship was not breaking up. The rocket apparatus was brought up and a line soon fixed. Another was at once rigged by its side, and a cradle slung between both. One by one, or two by two, the whole of the 400 souls on board the vessel were safely landed. Things went worse with the Hotspur. She was nearly full. Her Captain was on shore, a fact which requires explanation. She was always deep in the water, for she was 1,200 tons register. Whether for these or any other reasons she touched ground about a quarter of a mile from the shore, immediately behind the fearful gathering round the John Scott. Whether she sprang a leak or not will never be known, but she immediately began to settle down.—The waves made a clean breach over her, urging her further on the shore. In fact, after she struck, the Hotspur must have thus drawn forward 100 yards. At first it was hoped that she would come up to the beach like all the others, and little was done, in the hope that the crew might get better terms from the sea somewhat later, especially as none of the ships that had come on the sand showed any signs of breaking up. By 12 o'clock it was seen that this hope was vain. Right in front of the merchants' offices she gradually settled in the sand, until only her bulwarks and deck house were above the water.

The hurricane—for cyclone it was not, seeing that the wind never changed more than a few points—was almost as violent as ever.—Few persons could withstand it. The master-attendant was driving down in a heavy carriage drawn by two horses, when the wind upset the carriage, seriously injuring the master-attendant, and leaving him senseless on the road. This is mentioned partly to show the force of the wind and partly to explain what was seemingly great neglect on the part of the marine authorities. The surf ran at racing speed in waves and swept over everything. The rain fell in torrents, dashing violently against all in its way. No sound could be heard but the roaring of the wind and the thuds of the leaping surf. Exposed to this were the thirty men who formed the crew of the Hotspur. Huddled together on the deck they tied themselves together and to the ship, that the sea might not carry them away. Vain precaution! They could not tie so tightly that the gripping sea could not seize one and another. In the sight of all who stood there—Governor, Council and all the chief authorities—first one and then another was dragged away, never to be seen again alive. The rocket apparatus was used very freely, but neither skillfully nor successfully. For a long time none would fall over the ship. Then one did, and was made fast, but it could not be tightened, and hung down into the sea. It was long before any man would dare such a bridge, but death seemed to come nearer each hour, and at length one ventured. The brave man tried to bring with him a rope from the ship, so that those who followed might have a second rope. Bravely he held on, one moment high in air, the next deep under the hammering sea. Half way across the rope broke, and he fell back into the raging waves. His bravery was now his safety, for he was hauled back to the ship by the rope he carried. It was long before another rope could be thrown, for many broke and more missed, and the exhausted survivors felt that they could not hope to pass. Here one of England's heroes stood forth and told his comrades that he would try to swim ashore to say that they must send a cradle. This brave fellow was the chief officer. After a fearful struggle with the waves and floating wreck he reached the shore alive. The wind had now lulled somewhat, and the shore was covered with a dense crowd of natives and Europeans. No cradle could be sent where it was found so difficult to get a rope, and nothing could be done. Finding no fresh help coming from the shore, the crew tried the rope again. One after another started. Only one succeeded. In the sight of 10,000 people not 200 yards away, all the rest were washed off, though not all lost, for the brave fellows struck out for the shore, holding on to the wreck here and there to rest themselves. No boat could go out to help them, for nothing could live in such a surf. At this time also the sea was covered with floating wreck, which made it dangerous to go near the water. Already a gallant soldier of the Fusiliers had been killed. He was hauling in a drowning man, when a great piece of wood was hurled at him by the advancing surf. It struck him on the head, killing him on the spot.

What a pitiful sight it was, those twelve or fifteen men still huddling on the deck of the Hotspur! God grant that I may never see such a sight again! We could only see them at short intervals, for the surf waves chased each other every half minute, and every one of them went high over the heads of the ship-wrecked crew. It beat them like some giant hammer, while they could no nothing in return but hold out beseeching hands to us on the shore. They could not get out of reach of the water, for the masts had all gone by the board long before, broken off short at the deck.—Naked and cold and despairing, the poor fellows still held on. At about 5 1-2 o'clock another rocket rope fell over the vessel in a somewhat more favorable way. Three more sailors came ashore thoroughly exhausted. Twelve remained. It now grew dark—dark as pitch. The leaden skies showed neither moon nor stars. None dared venture again, for to lose hold of the rope was certain death. Gradually, slowly, and tearfully the spectators went away. Strong men and happy women cried like children to think that twelve men who had braved the sea from 10 that morning must be left to the fearful night, hungry, exhausted, wet and cold. None dared to hope for these lone twelve—they dared not hope for themselves. Happily the wind fell entirely. The night was calm, all but the fearful surf, that takes many long hours to settle down to its ordinary bluster. How slowly those night watches passed away! All that could be done was to burn blue lights at intervals to show the poor men that they were not forgotten. Before the dawn could break men crept down to the beach in solemn awe to see if perhaps there might be one left clinging for dear life. Would the day never break? Soon one with sharper eyes than the rest declared that he could see "some." We waited a little longer, and then, just visible in the gloom, there was no mistaking the huddled-up group of the previous night. Were they alive, or only corpses swinging to the wave? A hearty shout went across the still foaming surf. It was responded to. A heavy arm slowly lifted proved that one, at least, was living and could still look for help. The surf was so heavy that nothing seemed possible until some masula boatmen were persuaded by the promise of a large reward to try to reach the wreck. The men could swim like fishes, and at last consented. With infinite difficulty they made the wreck, took off the men one after the other, twelve in all, and brought them on shore alive. Yes, not one had been lost during that dreadful night.—They had kept up heart, though hope had left them and held on.

The poor fellows had been in the power of the fearful sea from 10 A. M. of May 2d till 5¾ A. M. of May 3—nearly twenty hours' exposure to a surf such as the world can scarcely rival, without clothing, without food, and, worst of all, for twelve hours without hope.

As well as can be known, it appears that thirty ships in all have been wrecked. Of these sixteen are visible. The rest have gone utterly to pieces. Their disjecta membra line the shore. Two country ships struck the pier nearer the shore, doing little damage, as they grounded at the same time, and they now hang against the pier as if they were discharging cargo at a wharf. Not one will ever be got off—at least, experience makes us judge so.—It is not known how many lives were lost, for there is no register of native crews, and it is, therefore, impossible to say how many are missing. The number must be great. Eighteen Europeans are known to be lost; there may be others. Of the European survivors, twenty-five or twenty-six are in hospital grievously wounded by spars and the like.

While we write, the news has come in that the storm has been very severe inland. A telgram from Vellore says the town is wrecked, and that 400 people lie dead under the ruins or have been carried away by the floods. We hope this is an exaggeration. At Pondicherry the ships put out in time, and none are ashore. The Peninsula and Oriental steamer Mongolia reports weather so heavy in the bay that she had twice to heave to. She spoke the Orissa, dismasted, but apparently sound. Much anxiety is felt for certain ships now overdue. While I write, the Viceroy has come in.

Madras itself is like a city that has been whipped. Trees lie everywhere about the roads. Two native theatres of immense size are blown down. The ruins of poor native houses stare us in the face on all sides. There has been very little loss of life, although great loss of property."

POLITICAL NOTES.

Gen. Hooker declares very strongly for amnesty.

Gen. Hancock refuses to allow his name to be used at Baltimore.

The Albany Argus condemns the World for its attacks on Greeley.

The Louisville Journal proposes putting a Manton Marble head-board over Dan. Voorhees' political grave.

The Huntsville Advocate casts the balance and shows that Greeley and Brown will carry the State by 30,000 majority.

The political world is greatly excited over the question whether Stanton ever said what Sumner said he did. It is not specially important anyway.

Ex-Governor Pierpont of West Virginia, a delegate to the Philadelphia Convention, withdrew on the 5th, and announced that he would support Greeley.

Associated Press Dispatches.

BY TELEGRAPH TO DAILY FREEMAN.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 16.

At a session of the Protestant synod to-day, the representatives of the American Presbyterians presented an address congratulating the synod upon the fact that on reassembling in France, they did so under a French Republic.

Count Von Arnim, German embassador, presented to President Thiers the reply of the German Government to the proposition for the evacuation of France as installments of war indemnity are paid. The German government accepts in principle, the proposition of the French government, and requires full payment of indemnity before the 2d day of March, 1874.

MARSAILLES, June 16.

While the Spanish steamship Guadayea was lying in this port to-day, crowded with passengers, her boilers exploded. The entire upper portion of the ship was torn to pieces. Of those on board, few escaped death or injury. 44 passengers, and 11 of the officers and crew were killed immediately. After the explosion the steamer took fire and the flames communicated to the dock. A serious conflagration was threatened. Several hundred bales of cotton were consumed, when the flames were subdued.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 16.

Before the meeting of the arbitrators at Geneva, the Americans received important dispatches from Washington. They will absolutely refuse to request an adjournment of arbitration. It is believed England's difficulties in regard to arbitration are insurmountable.

LATER—The treaty has been complied with by presentation of the final arguments of both countries. No further argument is possible, except by the desire of the Tribunal. The Americans are confident the Tribunal will not accede to the English declaration of abeyance.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, June 16.

Serious trouble from the labor movement is feared here. The engineers threaten to strike, and the masters have resolved to meet it by locking up their shops and factories, thereby throwing out of work all employees, whether engaged in the strike or not.

MEXICO.

MATAMORAS, June 15.

The steamer Tabosco arrrived at the mouth of the Rio Grande to-day, with 375 man, money and munition of war for this city which being disembarked, another steamer was reported coming with 600 men for Gen. Ceballos.

To-days telegrams from Camargo confirm the defeat of the Revolutionists under Gen. Pedro Martinez at Cunalve by Gen. Achoa; that the Insurgents lost nearly all of their horses and were dispersed through the mountains. Upon the arrival of troops expected on the steamer reported coming, Gen. Ceballos will be in a condition to advance on Monterey, which is the only point of importance north of Sierra Madre, now held by the rebels.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, June 16.

Gen. Sickles has gone to Madrid to present his letters of recall to the Spanish Government, but no successor will be appointed until several matters in controversy, including the liberation of Dr. Howard, have been adjusted. The Spanish government have yet failed to be convinced that Howard is an American citizen, but may release him in accordance with the request of our government.

Letters from Earl Granville to Edward Thornton, dated in May, claims he has been able to show upon the testimony of Reverdy Johnson, corroborated by extracts cited by Secretary Fish, that for the first seven years of the discussion, up to 1869, none but direct claims were known as Alabama Claims, and that the indirect losses were mentioned by the American High Commissioners not as claims, but as grievances, and were mentioned to be withdrawn from discussion.

BATTLEFIELD MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION.

GETTYSBURGH, June 15.

At the annual meeting of the Directors of the Battlefield Memorial Association, Governor Geary presiding, a committee was appointed to invite submission plans, specifications and proposals for the erection of indication obelisks or monuments intended to designate and explain the position and movements of corps, divisions and important commands of the two armies during the battle of Gettysburg.

These plans and proposals will be held before a meeting to be held on the 2d of July, and if satisfactory, this great commemorative work will be proceeded with. A resolution was unanimously passed to exclude partisan and sectional spirit from the indications, and to make it a purely scientific work for the contemplation of citizen soldiery and military students of all nations.

A SUBMARINE EARTHQUAKE AT OSWEGO.

OSWEGO, June 15.

A rare phenomenon was witnessed in this vicinity, on Thursday at 3 o'clock in the morning. The water in the lake and river raised two feet, remaining at that elevation sixty-four minutes. From that time until seven o'clock the water alternately rose and fell, subsiding to the ordinary level at seven o'clock, where it remained. Previous to the rise a white cloud was observed on the lake, which gathered with a high water spout, which swept rapidly to the east. A rumbling sound was heard coming from the water. Fish came to the water in great numbers, and bubbles of air rose rapidly and exploded. The symptoms seem to indicate a submarine earthquake.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

BUFFALO, June 15.

The locomotive of an express train on the Erie R. R. due here at 11:30 last night, exploded her boiler 15 miles this side of Hornellsville, near Swain's Station, instantly killing John Miller, fireman, and fatally injuring Jacob Thompson, engineer, besides slightly injuring John D. Robinson who was riding on the engine, and a lady passenger. The cause of the accident is unknown.

STEAMSHIP NEVADA ASHORE.

LONDON, June 16.

The steamship Nevada which sailed from New York, as she approached Queenstown harbor, went ashore at 2 o'clock this afternoon, half a mile east of Roche's Point. A dense fog prevailed. The passengers and mails were landed in safety. The ship having been lightened came off with the next tide.

THE BOARD OF ARBITRATION.

LONDON, June 16.

Special dispatches from Geneva to the London Journal says the sitting of the board yesterday lasted only one hour.

Lord Tenterden presented the formal demand of Great Britain for adjournment until the question of indirect claims was settled with the United States.

The American agent replied that he had received no instructions from his government.

The board will discuss probably on Monday the proposal for an adjournment. Some report that the Amenricans will concede the point, and that England will make no further concessions. The American commissioner, agent and counsel have engaged apartments in Geneva for the season. The representatives of England dined together yesterday, and are to make an excursion on the lake to-day.

THE ERIE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

NEW YORK, Jnne 16.

Considerable speculation was indulged in yesterday as to the merits of the rumored movement of the Erie board of directors. It is stated not on very good authority that Gen. Dix is to be removed from the presidency, and Gen. McClellan appointed to the position. As the latter is now president of the Atlantic and Great Western, it is claimed he cannot accept the presidency of the Erie.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

NEW YORK, June 16.

One of the four story frame ware houses, and an elevator at the Atlantic dock Brooklyn were burned last night. Loss $45.000.

The sugar refiners of New York and Brooklyn have decided to suspend operations, and have recalled all their available stocks to keep the market from a corner. Prices advanced one half a cent per pound. The manufacturers yesterday resolved to go into a lockout, which will deprive 3000 men of work.

To-morrow is the day set down for the trial of Edward S. Stokes. It is more than probable the procuring of a jury will be commenced.

THE RACES AT LONG BRANCH.

NEW YORK, June 16.

The race for the Mnomouth Cup at Long Branch on Tuesday July 2d, for which Harry Bassett and Longfellow are entered, is exciting great interest among the sporting men and public. Many thousands of dollars already bet on the result adds slightly in favor of Bassett, who is the favorite with eastern men.

DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO IN DUTCHESS COUNTY.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 16.

Information was received to-night from Pawling and Verplanks, that a destructive tornado passed over these places yesterday. Hail stones fell half the size of hens eggs. Whole fields of rye were destroyed, and hundreds of panes of glass broken.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IN UTAH.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 15.

The Democratic Territorial Convention elected Hadley D. Johnson, E. P. Johnson and John H. Ely delegates to the Baltimore Convention. They endorsed the Cincinnati platform and nominations, but decline to instruct the delegates.

OFFICIAL WEATHER REPORT.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, June 17, 1 A. M.

Falling barometer, easterly to southerly winds, cloudy weather and areas of rain will prevail on Monday northwest of the Ohio Valley; clear and partially cloudy weather over the Southern States with light to fresh winds, and over the New England and Middle States, with light to fresh winds, except along the lower lake region, where increasing cloudiness, threatening weather and possibly rain, and fresh to brisk southerly winds are probable.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my most matured appreciation of its value, based upon actual and witnessed realities. As a close observer, I have while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will at all times and under all circumstances act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who employs it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures—as if by magic and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here, in which, as well as in the cases which I have mentioned, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm in any state or condition. It will be found invaluable in diseases incident to pregnancy, and can be taken in moderate doses with perfect safety while in that state. Indeed, it is a Mother's Cordial, and so prepares the system for parturition that it renders child-labor easy. I have received the heartfelt praise from hundreds of mothers for the inestimable benefits thus conferred.

I offer my Favorite Prescription to the Ladies of America with the sincerity of an honest heart, and for their best welfare. Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in my TREATISE ON CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE GENERATIVE AND URINARY ORGANS, sent secure from observation upon receipt of two postage stamps. It treats minutely on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to their management.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured by a mortgage dated the 22d day of September, 1871, executed by ANTOINETTE CARSON, of the town of Kingston, county of Ulster and state of New York, to Edgar B. Newkirk of the same place, and which mortgage was recorded in the Clerk's office of said county of Ulster, in Book No. 108 of mortgages, on page 125, on the 24th day of October, 1871, at 1 hour, P. M.; Said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the purchase money of the sum of [$200] two hundred dollars; and whereas, the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, is the sum of [$208.25] two hundred and eight dollars and twenty-five cents, to wit, $200 principal and $8.25 interest, and which is the whole amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage. That there has been no suit or proceedings in law or equity to collect the amount of said unpaid balance on said mortgage.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and duly recorded as aforesaid, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, at Public Auction, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Kingston, in the county of Ulster, on the TWENTY-SIXTH DAY OF JUNE, 1872, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The said premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain lot or lots of land situated on the southerly side of Apple street as per map of lands of E. B. Newkirk at Mapleton, and is bounded as follows: Northerly by said Apple street, easterly by lot conveyed to J. M. Carson, southerly by land of said Newkirk, and westerly by Rock street; said lot being sixty [60] feet front on said Apple street, and runs back same width one hundred [100] feet on Rock street. Also all that other lot situated at Mapleton adjoining the above lot and is bounded as follows: Northerly by the above lot and lot of J. M. Carson, easterly by land of said E. B. Newkirk, southerly by same, and westerly by said Rock street; said lot being forty [40] feet front on said Rock Street, and runs back same width one hundred [100] feet.

Dated Rondout, April 1st, 1872.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured by a mortgage dated the first day of January, 1871, executed by ANTHONY L. SCHOONMAKER of the town of Kingston, County of Ulster, and State of New York, to EDGAR B. NEWKIRK, of Rondout, town of Kingston, county and state aforesaid, and which mortgage was recorded in the Clerk's office of said county of Ulster, in Book No. 108 of Mortgages, on page 162, on the 17th day of October, 1871, at 12 hours and 30 minutes, P. M.; Said mortgage was given to secure the payment of the purchase money of the sum of ($296) two hundred and ninety-six dollars; and whereas the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage, at the time of the first publication of this notice, is the sum of ($321.93) three hundred and twenty-one dollars and ninety-three cents, to wit, $296.00 of principal and $21.93 of interest, and which is the whole amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage. That there has been no suit or proceedings in law or equity to collect the amount of said unpaid balance on said mortgage.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and duly recorded as aforesaid, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, at Public Auction, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Kingston, in the county of Ulster, on the TWENTY-SIXTH DAY OF JUNE, 1872, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The said premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that certain lot of land situated in Kingston, New York, being part of the property known as Mapleton, as per map of E. B. Newkirk, and is bounded as follows: Northerly by lot of said Newkirk, easterly by Hurley Avenue, southerly by the Coutant lot, and westerly by land of said Newkirk; said lot being forty-eight (48) feet in width, and one hundred (100) feet deep.

THE DAILY FREEMAN.

CITY OF KINGSTON, (RONDOUT.)

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 17, 1872.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Bring It Back.

Wm. B. Scott, late Town Clerk, wishes the person who has the ballot box used in the Fourth Ward at the late City election to return it to him at once.

New Time Table.

The ferry-boat Lark runs on a new time-table, the Hudson River R. R. having changed the time of a few of its trains. The time-table, corrected, will be found in another column.

Thanks.

The FREEMAN office is under obligations to Mr. Thomas O'Kane, the North Front street stationer, for a handsomely bound copy of the Scriptures. We appreciate Mr. O'Kane's interest in our moral welfare, and hope his gift will be productive of a wholesome reformation in the establishment.

Lightning Rods.

Mr. H. K. Beales, agent for the National Lightning Rod Co., has had a very good fortune in this section, having put up 1500 feet at Eddyville, with a large number of orders awaiting arrival of stock. He advertises in another column a very valuable certificate from Mr. JOHN R. FREER, which shows the practical working of his rods.

More Improvements.

Messrs. Scott & Weber, the popular proprietors of Washington Hall, have been improving the inside of their building by painting, graining and varnishing, and everything about the establishment looks as neat as waxwork, while a man could easily shave himself by the bright varnish. The graining was done by Lawton, the celebrated artist, and it is needless to say it is a fine specimen of work.

Resigned.

Mr. R. B. Emerson, for a year past Superintendent of the Rondout & Oswego R. R., has resigned. Mr. Emerson has been in the employ of the railroad for three years past, during which time he has not lost a day. During a part of his term as Superintendent he pledged his personal credit for supplies, and thus kept the trains running, dealers trusting him when they would not give the road credit.

On the Route Again.

The repairs to the ferry-boat Lark having been completed, it was put on the route between this city and Rhinecliff on Saturday last, the New York, which had supplied the place of the Lark, returning to Albany, where she belongs. The machinery and hull of the Lark have been thoroughly overhauled and put in fine order and the boat newly painted, causing it to look as fresh and neat as when first launched.

Opposition Omnibus Line.

M. D. Perrine, of the City Hotel, up-town, has established an opposition omnibus line to H. W. Winne. The coaches run to and from the Powell and to the Baldwin on Sunday. This makes lively times when the boat lands. If any one don't believe it, let them go and see. The drummers almost tear passengers to pieces to get their favor. There has been nothing like it here since the old opposition days of the day boats.

Launches.

Morgan Everson will launch this (Monday) morning the new propeller Thomas Dickson. The affair will come off, it is expected, about nine o'clock. Mr. Everson has made great preparations, and will make merry on a huge scale. He invites all the handsomest women and bravest men to the feast.

Messrs. J. & J. McCausland will launch from their ways to-day, at high water, about eleven o'clock—the fourth of the large barges they have been building for the Wilkesbarre Coal Transportation Company. The occasion will be made as interesting as possible by the genial builders.

Personal.

Henry M. Crane left on Saturday for Boston, where he will attend the great hub advertisement, the Jubilee. Mr. Crane sings in the grand chorus, and when he comes back we suppose he can tell us more of what he knows about music than he could before, and we are all aware he knows considerable.

IN "the leafy month of June" we are told that "young men's thoughts lightly turn on love", and with the truth of the quotation, barring the word lightly—we are convinced, that Mr. Monagle, the Garden street jeweler, has deserted his thorny paths of single cussedness and taken unto himself that better half, which is an ornament—a good wife. Don't think Mac should have been so sly about it—ought to have given the boys a chance to be glad too.

Runaways.

While Col. P. J. Flynn was attending a funeral at St. Mary's cemetery on the Flatbush road on Saturday his horse took fright and ran and kept on running until he reached the Colonel's store on Division street. The Colonel was thrown out of the wagon, but fortunately was not hurt. The horse received no injuries.

On Saturday afternoon a citizen of Flatbush, in a state of high pressure inebriation, drove into town, and by his drunken performances scared his horse, which started at a handicap pace down Garden street, knocking the shafts into smithereens before it got half way down the thoroughfare. The horse was caught and found unharmed, and officer Tammany escorted the "hooked-up" imbiber to the lock-up, where he lay until restored to a consciousness of his situation, when he was dismissed, with an injunction to mend his ways—and his wagon.

A Military Excursion.

A committee of military men are to visit Long Pond on the Shawangunk mountains to look out a spot for an encampment. This will be a magnificent place for a summer drill, for while the bare rocks will make a fine parade ground, the wild scenery of the mountains will be a joy to the citizen soldiers. Then the pond, which affords fine fishing, will not come amiss. For a stroll they can go to High Point and there behold scenery surpassing that from Paltz Point. Huckleberries too. Well, the New Yorkers must be satisfied.

General Term Decisions.

Benjamin I. Frear, Jophat Frear and others vs Elsie Hasbrouck and others. Judgment affirmed without costs.

County.

The people of Ellenville are complaining that the dominies preach too long.

The Midland R. R. expects to commence running through trains from Ellenville to-day.

Wawarsing Lodge, F. & A. M., held their first communication in their new rooms on Wednesday evening. An elegant new carpet has been put down in the main room, and with new furniture, etc., their present quarters will compare favorably with any in the State outside the large cities.—Ellenville Journal.

The Lightning at Palenville.

The effect of the lightning at Palenville was more serious than at first reported. There were twenty-two pupils in the school at the time, of whom twelve were paralyzed. One of these, a daughter of Gabriel Merritt, who had one child killed, is hopelessly sick from the effects of the stroke. The lightning followed the stove pipe from the chimney to the center of the room, which accounts for the disastrous effect. The school house stands about one mile east of the village on the Catskill turnpike.

An Infant Found in the Woods.

On Wednesday evening of this week, just after the heavy rain, a man named Rosekrans, while passing through a piece of woods near Sandburgh, in the adjoining county of Sullivan, heard the cries of an infant. Following in the direction of the sound, he came upon a babe about a week old, lying on the ground, nearly naked, crying in the last stages of exhaustion. The little waif had been exposed to the severity of the storm just over; but who had left it there, whence it came and where it belonged, was a complete mystery. He tookit up and cared for it. Under kind treatment it revived, and efforts are being made to find the unnatural parents.—Ellenville Press.

Rosendale Park Races.

The first meeting of the Rosendale Park Association took place on their grounds at the Plains on Thursday and Friday of last week. The track was quite heavy, owing to the late rains, which had one good effect, and that was to lay the dust, which is generally insufferable at that place. The attendance was good, and there was present a goodly number of horses and sporting men.

On Thursday the day was fine and just about warm enough to be comfortable. Friday, during the race, the rain came down in torrents, making the track very heavy. The great race of the day did not come off, owing to the entries not being filled. Major King and Judge Chanley were entered, but on account of the lack of the third entry, they did not trot. We give a summary of the races below:

JUNE 13th. Purse of $50 for all horses that have not trotted better than 3 minutes. Best two in three, to harness, $25 to 1st horse, $15 to 2d and $10 to 3d.

Martin VanVleet,	b. m.	Park Maid	1	1
B. Schoonmaker,	s. g.	O. Lomas	Dist.
James Bertholf,	s. m.	Fox	2	2
A. Norris,	b. m.	No name	Dist.
Henry DuBois,	b. g.	No name	3	Dist.

Time, 2:48, 2:47, 2:50.

Same day—Double team race. Purse $65; $40 to 1st, $15 to 2d and $10 to 3d. Best 2 in 3 to harness.

James Bertholf,	b. g.	Black Dick and mate	1	2	1 2
J. J. Hornbeck,	b. g.	Wiltwyck	2	1	3 2 1
	s. g.	Major King
B. Schoonmaker,	Frank and mate		3	3	1 3 3

Time, 2:57, 3:01, 2:56, 2:55, 2:52.

It became dusk before this race was finished, so the race had to be postponed until the next day at 10 o'clock, when the 1st and 2d money was divided between Hornbeck and Bertholf.

JUNE 14th, 1872; Purse of $50 for all horses that have not trotted better than 2:50. Best 3 in 5 in harness; $25 to 1st, $15 to 2d, $10 to 3d.

J. J. Hornbeck,	b. g.	Wiltwyck	1	3	2	1	1
Martin VanVleet,	b. m.	Park Maid	2	1	1	2	2
Henry Dubois,	b. g.	No name	3	2	3	3	3
A. Norris,	b. m.	No name	4	4	4	4	4

Time, 2:45, 2:44, 2:47, 2:48, 2:49.

A Centennial Jubilee.

There are so few things in this country of a hundred years standing, that any centennial celebration deserves special mention. The Colonial Court House, at Johnstown, has stood a hundred years, and the fact will be duly honored on the 21st inst., by the people of Fulton and neighboring counties. Governor Seymour has consented to deliver the address. It will be a gala day in the old town. —Hudson Star.

A Brave Fireman.

Last Thursday an old gentleman from near Shawangunk, whose name we could not ascertain, but whose venerable appearance indicated seventy years, had stepped off the Accommodation train at Greycourt, and passed to the track along which was coming behind him a heavy coal train.

The old man was utterly unconscious of his danger, and the train was too near him to be stopped in time to save him, so that destruction seemed inevitable.

The engineer reversed his engine, No. 363, and repeatedly blew the whistle, and still the old man kept on the track.

Charley Clute, the fireman, suddenly threw off his greasy cap, rushed to the pilot of the engine, sat down with his legs across the heavy timbers projecting from the engine, and which are used as pushers, and holding out his arms as the train advanced upon the old man, picked him up bodily, and held him by his strong arms in safety at the peril of his own life. Then he returned to his post without saying a word to any one, and seemed to take the affair as a part of his ordinary duties.

We obtained Clute's name, for we hope such a brave, cool man should not be forgotten by his employers.—Goshen Independent.

Destruction of Evergreens.

The long winter has been very destructive to evergreens in some parts of the country, and, perhaps, generally, though less so in some sections than others. The fact is a very curious one, because, the last summer being dry, all wood growths seemed to mature and harden up unusually well; besides, the cold, though long continued, was at no time so severe as has been experienced in previous years without injury. The peach buds have escaped this year, where they have been killed ten years in succession, and yet all sorts of evergreens have been killed outright, or so damaged as to be almost worthless. The greatest losses we have accounts of have been met with on Long Island. All the trees in Greenwood Cemetery have been killed, as they have been mostly where set out singly or grown in hedges in private grounds. Parsons & Co., and other nurserymen have lost their entire stocks, valued at tens of thousands of dollars. We do not observe that any very considerable proportions of evergreens have been lost in this vicinity, but the destruction east of the Rocky Mountains it is said, will amount to millions of dollars in value. This destruction is greatly to be regretted, as tending to discourage the planting of evergreens under circumstances where it is greatly to be desired they should succeed.

County Court and Court of Sessions.

SATURDAY, June 15, 1872.

The case of The People vs. Charles Jones, the colored man, was continued. Charles Safford, jeweler of this city, testified the watch was worth about $20, the trinkets on the chain $1.14, and the chain nothing.

Officer Ryan, from Rondout, testified that he went to Providence, R. I., and took the prisoner, who had been arrested by the Chief of Police of that place, on a telegram that had been sent from Rondout.

The prisoner testified that he was a sailor, and came to Rondout on his boat; that while the boat was being loaded, he rambled about Rondout and called on Pennsylvania Em, where he drank several times. Em then gave him a note as follows:

"Friend, Friend, Friend."

"EM."

and sent him with it to the complainant, Anna Fredenburg. The prisoner went to her house, gave her the note, and then there took place between the colored man and the complainant a scene too disgusting to publish, after which the prisoner, seeing the watch in the bedroom, took it in fun and put it in his vest pocket, with the chain exposed to view. The complainant, as the prisoner supposed, saw the chain, and knew he had it, for she smiled sweetly upon him, and gave him her address on an envelope, requesting him to return soon wich something good. That he meant to return the watch and chain, but then got drunk, and was hurried away in his boat the afternoon of the same day, at 2 o'clock. He stated that he meant to return the watch as soon as circumstances would permit, but was arrested as soon as he arrived at Providence. While there the officers took his money from him, and at Rondout, when he requested to see the complainant, refused to take him to her house, but offered to let him go if he would give the officer $30.

Counsel on both sides were extremely sharp. The counsel for the prisoner likened the complainant to Desdemona who took such a violent fancy to the Moor, while the prosecution was extremely sarcastic, and bore heavily on the prisoner, but at the expense of the character of his witness. The value of the property having been proved to be worth less than $25, the prisoner can only be convicted of petit larceny. The District Attorney and Chas. A. Fowler for the people. A. T. Clearwater, counsel for the prisoner. The jury failed to agree, standing eleven for acquittal, and one for conviction. The Judge discharged the jury and adjourned the County Court until Monday (June 17) at 2 P. M., and the Court of Sessions until Tuesday, the 18th.

False Pride.

The trip of the Atalanta Boat Club, of New York, to Europe to compete with the English crew. The Atalanta crew is by no means the representative amateur crew of America. We think as a crew they have superiors. Doc. Withers and Edward Smith are good oarsmen, but then there are many better amateur pullers. Tom Fearon, of the Yonkers Club, is a better rower. If the Atalantas crossed the pond for an excursion, why, that's one thing, but if they crossed with the hope of wresting a prize from the Englishmen, they have indeed fallen heavily. The trip, if meant to gain a victory, was the most foolish one on record. Going down the bay of New York, followed by steam tugs decorated with flags and crowded with admirers, and amid the booming of cannon and strains of music from costly bands, is well enough in its way; but to come back with their feathers completely shorn and badly beaten is bad for the Atalantas. It is, however, a healthy lesson.—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

The Rhinebeck Gazette says: "The enlargement of the Slate Dock is progressing finely. Part of the crib has been completed. The dock will be fifty feet wider at the western extremity, and ninety feet wider at the eastern end. Mr. Wm. Gage, of Rondout, is the builder."

When Mr. Greeley registered his name on the Morgan House register, in Poughkeepsie, an old friend said to him that his chirography was improving. "Well," said Mr. Greeley, "I have signed my name to a great many notes for people and they always came back to me. I guess they manage to read it."

A diabolical attempt was made to throw the Night Express, No. 4, from the track on the Delaware Division of the Erie Railway, near Great Bend, last Sunday morning. The night watchman discovered a number of ties placed on a bridge, where, had the train been wrecked, the loss of life must have been terrible. Two men were arrested at Susquehanna on suspicion, one of whom after an examination was released, and the other will probably be bound over to make appearance at Court.

Ye local financiers compute gains by the 4th of July celebration at from $10,000 to $20,000. Two thousand Newburghers who would otherwise (that is in case Newburgh don't celebrate) leave town will keep themselves and their money here. Five thousand outsiders would be attracted here by a first-class celebration, including parade, regatta, fireworks, etc. These outsiders would spend not less than an average of two dollars apiece. The financiers think Newburgh could well afford to expend one thousand dollars in celebrating the ever-glorious.—Newburgh Journal.

LOCAL NOTICE.

This is to certify that on the 14th day of May, 1872, I had the improved cable conductors erected on my dwelling house through Mr. H. K. Beales, agent of the NATIONAL LIGHTNING ROD COMPANY, office 315 FOURTH AVENUE, New York city. I at the time considered I was paying my money more for an ornament than a protection, but in the thunder storm of Wednesday last (12th inst.) I feel free to state that I believe that but for the Cable Conductor my dwelling and its occupants would have been more or less injured. My neighbors saw the current take the point and pass safely to the earth, doing no damage, as they will affirm.

After carefully considering the whole matter, I have this 15th day of June given the said National Lightning Rod Company an order for rods for my other buildings, so soon as they can get the stock.

The Greatest Excitement

SINCE THE FLOOD!

A. M. Low's

PROCLAMATION

FOR 1872,

READ IT!

A. M. LOW, the popular Boot and Shoe Dealer of No. 19 Wall street, City of Kingston, desires the people to know that he has stocked his store for the Spring and Summer of 1872 with all the very latest styles of Boots and Shoes, which he is now offering at a figure that is an inducement for all in want of foot gear to extend to him their patronage. In the line of Men's Wear he introduces for the season a superior article of hand-made shoes, manufactured by Messrs. HANAN & REDDISH, of New York City. They are decidedly the "nobbiest" style ever placed in the market, made from the very best material and of the very best finish, and for which he is the sole agent in the City of Kingston. Besides these he has all other kinds in market of all the various shapes, styles, quality and prices.

Low has also the exclusive sale in this city of Women's and Misses' Shoes manufactured by Reynolds Brothers of Utica, and Munsen & Co. of Albany, articles celebrated for their beauty, finish, durability and peculiarity of preserving their shape. He is selling heaps of them daily, which is the best advertisement they can have, for everybody who buys them recommends them to their neighbors. As usual his stock is full in all the other grades of this line and will be kept so during the season.

Boys, Youths, Misses, Children, and Infants all go to Low's to get their feet clothed, for there they can find a stock to select from that beats anything outside of New York City. Had he space he would like to enumerate further—but it would fill this paper, and therefore he is obliged to stop with the simple announcement that he has the LARGEST STORE AND STOCK IN THE CITY—that he purchases at Wholesale and sells at retail, and that he is determined to keep the lead in his line of business, and not seeking a monopoly, invites competition from all sources, confident that he shall at least make his store worthy of patronage as one of the leading features of the new City of Kingston.

42m3 Respectfully, A. M. LOW, No. 19 Wall Street, Kingston.

THE IMPROVED

WHEELER & WILSON

Again Improved.

PERFECTION is our motto, and with this end in view, we have so improved the

FEEDING DEVICE

as vastly to improve its efficacy, while at the same time much less skill and care are required in its management. Neither the thread nor the cloth require holding, and both the thickest and thinnest goods are sewed perfectly. Seams are crossed with greater ease, and the work guided with scarce an effort. The

Distinctive Feature

of this Machine is the

ROTARY HOOK

to carry the loop of the upper thread around the spool containing the under, MAKING THE LOCK STITCH ALIKE ON BOTH SIDES OF FABRIC, thereby doing away with the vibratory motion of the shuttle, the tension upon the under thread, and all devices for taking up slack thread, necessary on all other two-thread machines. The public have endorsed these principles by purchasing 50,000 of our Machines.

183,600 Machines per annum.

Many new machine companies have had their rise and fall—their machines once popular now scarcely known—others have made radical changes in order to exist; while the Howe Machine Company have adhered to the opinion of "Elias Howe, Master of Mechanics" ("The machine is mechanically correct; does not change"), built addition after addition to their factory, and to-day cannot supply the demand, although turning out six hundred machines a day—just a machine a minute.

FOR FAMILIES AND MANUFACTURES.

THE GREAT PRIZE:
EXPOSITION UNIVERSELLE, PARIS, 1867.
Awarded over eighty-two competitors

The Highest Premium,

THE CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR AND GOLD MEDAL,

Given to American Sewing Machines, per Imperial Decree, published in the "Moniteur Universel," (Official Journal of the French Empire,) Tuesday, 2d July, 1867, in these words:

ELIAS HOWE, JR. { Fabricante de Machines a coudre exposant. Manufacturer of Sewing Machines, Exhibitor.

The Howe Sewing Machines

Are celebrated and known for doing the best work, using a straight and much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine. They are adapted to any and all kinds of family sewing and manufacturing of every description, from fine lace to patent leather, making a beautiful and perfect Lock Stich, alike on both sides of the article sewed, and will neither rip nor ravel, and uses less thread.

Every machine is as near perfection as the best machinery in the world can make it. It is the oldest machine and has more improvements, and is nearer perfection than any other machine, the parts being exactly alike. If any of the parts need to be replaced, the operator can replace it, and it will outlast and outwear any machine made. They are remarkably simple and easily learned, sure in their operation, and almost impossible to break or get them out of order. They use any thread directly from the spool. The needle has a perpendicular motion, (absolutely necessary for heavy work,) runs easily, a fast sewer, and almost noiseless. They do not soil the dress of the operator, and do not have to be taken apart to oil and clean. The New Improved Family Machine cannot be surpassed and is without equal, and we CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a better machine on points of merit. A Hemmer, Feller, Gatherer, Braider, Quilter, Tucking Guide, and all the other necessary Tools go with each machine, free of charge.

☞Beware of spurious and bogus Howe's. The undersigned is the only authorized Agent for the Genuine Howe Machine.
